COME AND SEE US.

The Republican State Central Committee has opened convenient and commodious headquarters on Wisconsin street, near the postoffice, in Milwaukee. All republicans, and especially those of our own state, are cordially invited to call when in the city. All republican papers published in the state, and many of the leading journals of the country, will be kept on file.

Come and see us. H. A. TAYLOR, Chm.
H. C. PAYNE, Sec.

Another voice from the tombs. Horatio Seymour has spoken in favor of Cleveland.

The Tammany combination will give a performance in Chicago, June 8. The troupe consists of 462, with Kelly as the star.

"Incipient midsummer madness," is what one democratic paper calls the Tilden boom.

There seems to be no such a thing as the democrats blundering into wisdom. They blunder always, but never happen to blunder in that way.

The democratic party once offered $10,000 for the body of Ben. Butler, dead or alive. Now it has him, and would give five times that sum if it could get rid of him. The democratic mind is very capricious.

In the Charleston national democratic convention, Ben Butler voted fifty-seven times for Jeff Davis. Now, to make it even Jeff Davis, should go to the July convention and vote fifty-seven times for Butler.

There is a man in Tennessee who can beat both Eli Perkins and Colonel Tom Ochiltree in lying. He has discovered a cave so large that the Mammoth cave would be lost in it. That will just be the place for the democrats to hide in after the election.

All the presidents since Lincoln have worn full beards, except President Arthur, whose whiskers have the English sideboard cut.—New York Tribune.

This is a campaign story. Andy Johnson never wore whiskers in his life, as he early adopted the practice of shaving every day.

General Logan is the first man the republicans have nominated for a vice presidency with a wife to share his honors. Dayton, nominated in 1855; Hamlin, in 1860; Johnson, in 1864; Colfax, in 1868; Wilson in 1872; Wheeler, in 1876, and Arthur, in 1880, were all widowers.

The young blooded democrats who got out the programme for a burlesque republican rally at the opera house on the Fourth, should not make too merry until they are out of the woods. Next week may find them dodging around the corners to escape notice. It is a very true saying that they laugh best who laugh last, and mind you, the republicans will laugh last.

Mr. Kennedy, of New York, who has presided at more coroners inquests than any other man in the United States, says the Irish prefer to kill themselves by hanging. The German invariably shoots or drowns himself, and the Frenchman cuts his throat with a knife or razor. The American takes poison or blows out his brains with a revolver. There are more suicides in summer than in winter.

There are many democrats who believe in the American system of protection, but are afraid to say so. The difference between the two parties in this: The republicans boldly proclaim the principle of protecting American citizens and American industries, but the democrats dare not. The republicans come boldly through the front door, the democrats try to slip in through a back window.

Colonel Ward H. Lamon, gained some fame, because he was once the law-partner of Abraham Lincoln. A few years ago he had a cash fortune of $600,000. He went into Wall street determined to make $6,000,000, and left it a bankrupt For four years he has been in Colorado trying to mend his broken health and fortunes, but the seeds of disease, engendered by a life of dissipation, had taken too firm a root. He once wrote the life of Lincoln, or what he termed the life of the great president. He tried to make it sensational and placed it in some domestic stories in which there was no truth, and which tended to degrade the early life of Lincoln. Lamon is now reaping his reward for writing that book.

Allan Pinkerton, the founder of the national detective association, died in Chicago on on Tuesday, at the age of 65. He was the greatest detective of the age, but the Inter Ocean says "that scarcely hints at a part of his service most worth remembering. It was of his association with the early anti-slavery agitators and his help extended to persecuted slaves that the old man, famous the world over, spoke most often. He was prouder of having carried Lincoln safely through to Washington in 1861 than he was of exploits more talked of. No other man in the country covered in his experience so many of the secrets and mysteries of public and private life as Allan Pinkerton."

TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO.

Twenty-three years ago to-day—July 2, 1861—the battle of Falling Waters was fought in Virginia. It was in some respects, an important engagement. It was one of the first battles of the war, and was the first engagement in which the Union troops were decisively victorious. There were 3; Federal soldiers killed, and 31 Confedates.

It was likewise the first battle of the war in which Wisconsin troops were engaged—the First regiment taking a prominent part in the contest. It was also made memorable by the fact that the first Wisconsin soldier who fell in the war of the rebellion, fell at Walling Waters. His name was George Drake, and belonged to a company raised in Milwaukee and assigned to the First regiment. Some have held that he was the first soldier of the war to be killed in actual battle, but in this they are mistaken. There had been 53 killed in various engagements up to the time Falling Waters was fought. But it is a fact that Drake was the first Wisconsin soldier to fall in battle.

General Lucius Fairchild was a captain in the First at the time the battle was fought, and Captain Pliny Norcross was a private, and took part in the engagement.

BLAINE AND THE FOREIGN VOTE.

The report has been sent out from Washington to the independent and the democratic press, that Mr. Blaine and his friends will conduct the campaign on two distinctively aggressive lines of operation, one having for its objective point the capture of one or more of the southern states, and the other to win over a large share of the foreign votes. With this object in view it is said that a thorough organization of the foreign vote in support of the republican ticket has taken place, and has received the approbation of Mr. Blaine in a personal letter to a prominent Italian, who has the matter in hand.

The facts in regard to the Italian vote are these: At a recent meeting in New York of the great social organization of the Latin races in the United States, the subject of the coming national election was fully discussed, with particular reference to the interests of Latin Americans and how those interests could be best advanced through the exercise of the elective franchise. A number of speeches were made, in which the strength of the Latin vote was carefully canvassed. In New York it was estimated that the Italian vote alone would aggregate nine thousand and the French and Spanish vote at least as much more, which would make the respectable showing of nearly fifteen thousand votes in New York city alone. In Pennsylvania and California it was shown that there was also a considerable Latin vote, not to speak of the scattering vote in other parts of the country, in all aggregating not less than sixty thousand.

Immediately after this meeting was held, the Italo-Americano, the official organ of the Italians in this country, came out strongly for Blaine and Logan, and this will influence almost the entire voting portion of the Latin race in the United States to vote the republican ticket.

Then, there is the Irish vote in New York, which is enormous compared with any other foreign vote. Already the Irish-Americans are joining the Blaine forces by the thousands. Why is this? The Irish, as well as every other nationality, have found that the democratic party is simply one of false pretenses. It never fulfills a promise, and is never successfull in doing anything that tends to build up the cause of the great laboring class of this country. With the elevation of Mr. Blaine to the presidency, these nationalities firmly believe that he will give to the country a vigorous American foreign policy, and also that his influence in the direction of promoting American industries will stimulate all branches of trade.

Our Present Blessings.

Our blessings are not appreciated until we are deprived of them. Most notable among them is health, the lack of which magnifies our other burdens. A hacking cough, a severe cold or any throat or lung disease is very troublesome; but all these may be quickly and permanently removed by Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure. Trial bottles free, of Stearns & Baker.

Looking for a Veto.

WASHINGTON CITY, July. 2.—The Fitz John Porter bill was again discussed at the cabinet meeting. Secretary Frelinghuysen and Attorney General Brewster are understood to have opposed a veto, while the other members of the cabinet favor it. Although nothing positive and definite can be learned respecting the president's intentions, it is believed that he is determined to veto the bill, and his message to congress assigning his reasons for so doing is confidently looked for by some.

Diabolical Depravity.

GRAFTON, W. Va., July 2.—Burno Earle a blind man, aged 40, having a wife and several children, has been arrested, charged with outraging a child 22 months old, injuring it so that it will die. The evidence against him is circumstantial but conclusive, and only the fact that he is regarded as weak-minded prevents his being lynched. It is believed, however, that even this will not save him when he is brought into court.

Gresham to Retire.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—It is understood among the friends of Gen. Gresham that he has decided to accept the vacant circuit judgeship to succeed Judge Drummond, and to retire from the cabinet. It is expected that his nomination will be sent to the senate within a few days, together with the name of his successor as postmaster general.

Under the instructions from W. H. Vanderbilt, Mr. Bair will take Maud S. to Cleveland and keep her in condition for use on the road. A purse of $4,000 is offered by the Cleveland driving park to Jay-Eye-See and Clingstone for a trotting contest on July 2.

THE LEADING SUBJECT

Of Discussion and the Way It Is Discussed.

Various Views of Conspicuous Citizens on Political Topics—Butler's Bonnie Boom—The Gathering at Peoria.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Whatever else may be said of the movement in favor of Butler as a presidential candidate, it is never idle, and the chief manager, Mr. N. A. Plympton, is as busy a man as there is in Chicago. "We have got a new combination," he said to a reporter.

"What is it?"

"Butler and Lamar. Benjamin Butler, of Massachusetts, for president, and L. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi, for vice president. Just think of it, and what a powerful ticket it would be. No combination could equal it for catching titles. 'The blue and the gray,' for instance."

"'The Federalist and the Confederate,'" suggested the reporter.

"Yes. 'The north and the south.'"

"'Massachusettes and Mississippi.'"

"'Reform and reconciliation.'"

"'Brass bands and enthusiasm.'"

"I tell you," said Mr. Plympton, "it would be a terribly strong ticket and would sweep the country. There is no use to try to sneer down Butler's strength; he has it, and Lamar is a man whom all the country respects, both for his ability and his honesty. He was on the wrong side of the late unpleasantness, but Butler was on the other, and a ticket like that would not only be successful, but it would forever heal up all the sectional bitterness that now exists. It would recognize the south as a part of the union and would be worth a million editorials about 'shaking hands over the bloody chasm.' Butler and Lamar! It would be a great ticket."

"Give us Butler and we will beat the Democrats so badly they won't know what hit them," said Mr. Jay Hubbell to a reporter. "We will, of course, beat any candidate they can name, but Butler is our especial choice."

"But Butler claims he can carry Michigan, your own state!"

"He can't carry one side of it. He claims he could carry the state because Bagole did, but that victory was only arrived at by a peculiar combination of Democrats and Greenbackers that could never be affected again. I tell you," said the great organizer, and here his voice sank into a whisper, "what the Democrats want to do in order to win. They want to nominate a Democrat—one who has always been a Democrat, and who has never run after Republican idols. Now in your own state politics you have an instance of it. The Democrats put up Lyman Trumbull, who was a great part of the time a Republican, and lost badly by the ration. In 1872 they nominated Greeley, and he failed to carry New Jersey, always a Democratic state. The party can never win as long as it goes hunting after Republican votes by nominating a man that it supposes Republicans will vote for. Let it nominate a Democrat like Thurman, or Bayard, or McDonald, one who has always been a Democrat, and let the Republicans come to him. The main thing is to get all the Democrats in line."

"Yes," said "Long" Jones, who was a third to the conversation, "that is why I am afraid of Carter Harrison; he has always been a Democrat, and will lose no Democratic votes."

Peter Lieber, of Indianapolis, a prominent German of that city and a delegate to the Democratic national convention, was at the Palmer house. To a reporter he said: "Indiana is for McDonald first, last, and all the time. We know him down there, and know that he is a strong man. He could carry our state, and he ought to carry New York, and we will vote for him as long as there is a plank left."

"Is Hendricks a candidate?"

"We understand not. Of course if Tilden is nominated we could call for the 'old ticket' in its entirety, but we consider that he has withdrawn, and consequently Hendricks has also withdrawn out of the race. He is for McDonald, and will nominate him in the convention. That is now certain."

"Would McDonald take second place on the ticket?"

"We are not considering that question now, being too intent on getting him at the head. We will talk about second place later."

Illinois Democracy.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The Herald's special from Peoria says: The situation as to candidates before the Democratic convention has not changed materially. Harrison will be nominated for governor by acclamation. So will Seiter for lieutenant governor and Orendorff for treasurer. For auditor W. B. Brigton and W. B. Carlin are the leading candidates. For secretary of state, Michael J. Dougherty, of Galesburg, has been put forward, and as he is an Irishman, and it is necessary that the Irish should be represented on the ticket, his calling is thought to be sure. Judge Keller is far ahead for attorney general.

The general sentiment of the delegates on the tariff question favors the reiteration of the plank of 1876. It is said that Morrison will not insist on his views being embodied in that subject, and that his only desire is to be a delegate-at-large.

Gen. Palmer will undoubtedly go to Chicago as one of the delegates-at-large, and John C. Black will probably be another. Gen. Palmer is for Cleveland and Vilas for president and vice president, and outside of Tilden the feeling among the delegates is strongest for Cleveland, though the southern delegates are quite friendly to McDonald, who has friends. The general western sentiment, though, seems to prevail—let New York speak first.

The state central committee have chosen Maj. H. C. Connelly, of Rock Island, for temporary chairman. Connelly is a veteran, having served with the Fourteenth Illinois cavalry. He is a lawyer by profession, and is nearly seven feet high.

Peoria is full of people, and it seems impossible that all of them will be able to find accommodations. But the hotels are doing better than they did with the Republicans, having gained experience and risen nearer to the requirements of the occasion.

The Ohio Delegation.

CINCINNATI, July 2.—The Times-Star says: Cincinnati will send four delegates to the Democratic national convention, and one delegate-at-large from the state of Ohio. In an interview with these four delegates, their views on the presidential nomination, and what they will do in Chicago were the subjects of inquiry. The interviewer found from each one that Governor Hoadly, through his late treaty with John R. McLean, has about captured the delegation of four men. It is also apparent that the unit rule, which was rejected by the Columbus convention, is to be adopted by the delegation itself by the majority. The situation is this: There are forty-six delegates from Ohio; twenty-four is a majority, and can by resolution instruct the chairman to cast the vote of Ohio as a unit for any man that the majority chooses to so honor. Thus the Cincinnati idea can control twenty-four votes, and, it is said, will use this advantage against Thurman.

The Anti-Cleveland Movement.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The representatives of the various bodies of the labor organizations met in Clarendon hall for the purpose of completing their arrangements for sending delegates to Chicago to protest against the use of Cleveland's name at the convention. Mr. George Blair presided. "We are here," said Mr. Blair, "to emphasize the action which we took last Friday in this hall as representatives of many of the strongest labor organizations both in this city and state. The feeling of the labor organizations throughout the state has been canvassed and the response from the leading representatives everywhere is thoroughly anti-Cleveland." Letters were read from a number of towns, stating that they were all united in sending an anti-Cleveland delegation to Chicago.

The Tammany Men.

NEW YORK, July 2.—At the meeting of the Tammany hall committee on organization, it was announced that 550 members had pledged themselves to go to the national convention at Chicago. John Kelly, in a few remarks, said that the Republican party was divided at almost every point, and that he was in favor of nominating a conservative candidate, and that the candidate should come from this state.

Labor Booming Butler.

BOSTON, July 2.—The Boston Stone Masons union has voted to support Butler for president, and resolved that it was the imperative duty of all labor unions in the country to throw aside party affiliations in the coming conflict and unite with the organizations already in the field, raise aloft the motto, "Labor Shall Triumph," and elect Butler the standard bearer.

NATIONAL MATHEMATICS.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—The reduction in the public debt during June, as shown in the statement issued from the treasury department, is $9,217,256, and for the fiscal year just ended, $101,040,971, against $18,-983,201, and $137,823,253, respectively, for the two corresponding periods of the preceding fiscal year. The total debt now, less cash in the treasury, amounts to $145,059,225, and of this $1,226,562,850 is interest bearing debt, against about $1,345,000,000 outstanding a month ago. The total cash in the treasury is $301,365,928, with current liabilities amounting to $222,068,689; leaving an available cash balance of $159,-887,239. A month ago the available cash balance was about $148,000,000. So while the outstanding bonded debt has decreased about $18,000,000 during the month, the available cash has fallen off $8,000,000.

The treasurer's statement shows $98,500,000 gold certificates outstanding, a decrease of less than $500,000 during the month; of silver certificates outstanding about $120,000,-000, an increase of $2,500,000 since May 31. Gold assets have decreased about $8,000,000 during the month, and the treasury now holds about $134,000,000 not covered by outstanding certificates. Gold coin has increased from $105,000,000 to $103,000,000, while gold certificates in the treasury have fallen off from $30,000,000 to $27,000,000. standard silver dollars are steadily accumulating and the treasury now holds $135,500,000, of that coin, or about $3,000,000 more than a month ago.

Customs receipts for June amounted to $14,701,145, and internal revenue receipts were $20,104,161. The revenue of the government for the fiscal year ended June 30, from all sources, is fully up to the estimates and expectations of treasury officials. Customs receipts for the year were $195,627,291, against $214,706,490 during the preceding fiscal year. Internal revenue receipts ran up to $122,004,498, against $144,720,388 the previous year. Receipts from miscellaneous sources were $30,-554,644, or $8,000,000 less than the year before, making the total receipts for the year $348,106,734, against $399,237,582 in 1882-83. This shows a falling off, compared with the preceding year, of about $19,000,000 in customs receipts, $23,000,000 in internal revenue and $8,000,000 in receipts from miscellaneous sources; or altogether $50,000,000 less revenue than in the preceding year.

While revenues have decreased, the expenditures for the year were $30,000,000 less than for 1882-83. The ordinary expenditures decreased from $240,000,000 to $185,000,000 the pension charge from $66,000,000 to $50,000,000, the interest charge from $50,000,000 to $350,000,000.

The large decrease in expenditures will offset in a great measure the falling off of $50,-000,000 in receipts and leave the government a surplus revenue of nearly $100,000,000 against about $133,000,000 in 1883-83.

Congressional Amenities.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—During the debate in the house on the postoffice appropriation bill, the question being upon the disagreement between the two houses as to an increase of the sum named for railway mail clerks, Horr said it was proposed to employ more clerks by paring the salaries of those already employed to pay the extra man, and wanted to know why "you don't begin by cutting down your own pay, Brother Holman."

Weller, of Iowa—I am in favor of cutting down the pay of members.

Horr—That is right; because your services are worth nothing; but I earn my money. [Loud laughter.]

In the senate Plumb said there had been great dilatoriness on the river and harbor bill and charged that the bill had been badly managed, whereupon. McMillan suggested in effect that Plumb mind his own business.

Conger criticized McPherson's position on the bill, and alluded to the petty, narrow-minded policy of people who objected to such improvements. McPherson declined to reply in terms, because, said he, "I would perhaps lose my self-respect and the respect of the senate, whose respect I always seek and am always anxious to hold."

Annie Had to Go Back to Jail.

BROOKLYN, July 2.—Annie E. Wallingford, who was convicted of bigamy in the King's county court of sessions for marrying Nathan Howes, knowing him to be a married man, was brought before Judge Cullen, in King's county supreme court in a writ of habeas corpus, when her counsel moved for her release on bail. A motion has been made for the arrest of judgment in her case, on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction, the offense being committed in New York. Judge Cullen dismissed the writ and Annie had to go back to jail.

I have several times examined baking powders in the market to deteamine their purity, raising power and influence on the health of those using them. I have uniformly found DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER the best in all these respects.

I have just made another examination of the "Royal" "Andrew's Pearl and "Dr. Price's Cream," and the results are the same as formerly. DR. PRICE'S CREAM is free from AMMONIA, while the "Royal" and "Andrew's Pearl" give an ALGALINE reaction, which LEADS to DYSPEPSIA. Price's is a pure, clean and elegant proportion of Cream of Tartar and Bicarbonate of Soda, and there does "in no wise enter into anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie."

The relative amount of Carbonic Acid Gas given off by the same weight (10 grammes) of these powders, heated in the same way, is as follows:

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder	650 cubic centimeters
The Royal	600 cubic centimeters
Andrew's Pearl	543 cubic centimeters

I have used Price's in my family for years. Even if the price is higher Price's is always the best."

TO TOBACCO GROWERS:

I am now prepared to furnish you with a pure BONE FERTILIZER from $1.50 to $4.00 per hundred pounds. One pound will grow from thirty to sixty plants, or 150 to 300 pounds to the acre, which is equal to ten to fifteen loads of rotten horse manure. Pure Bone Fertilizer gives to the plant a dark, rich, glossy color, with body and gum, which all tobacco buyers seek after in buying the seed. My goods are strictly pure bone and not cut with sulphuric or any other acids It makes the burning qualities which is desired with a white ash.

There are no adulterations of phosphate, rock or earth to pay for. Ask any of the buyers and they will tell you that there are no objections to my goods, and nothing detrimental to the plant, as there are no other fertilizers used by eastern growers. I have plants at my works for inspection, that have been grown with my fertilizer. It will pay tobacco growers to examine and be convinced for themselves. The goods can be used before, or from two to three weeks after the setting of plants.

Tobacco raised by the aid of PURE BONE FERTILIZER is ready to shed from two to three weeks earlier than otherwise. Give it a trial this season if only in a small quantity.

I also manufacture fertilizers for all kinds of crops, phosphates and super phosphates, also the South America deadly insect phosphate. For tobacco, cabbage, and all other plants, one pound is sufficient for from one hundred to one hundred and fifty plants.

Sample of my goods at STEARNS & BAKER'S, or at my works, foot of Jackson Street, near the river.

Climbing the Spiral Stairs.

Invisible Architecture in a New England Parsonage.

"Yes," she said, "our children are married and gone, and my husband and I sit by our winter fire much as we did before the little ones came to widen the circle. Life is something like a spiral staircase; we are all the time coming around over the spot we started from, only one degree further up the stairs."

"That is a pretty illustration," remarked her friend, musingly, gazing into the glowing coals which radiated a pleasant heat from the many windowed stove. "You know we cannot stop toiling up the hill, though."

"Surely we cannot, and for myself I don't find fault with that necessity provided the advance in life is not attended with calamity or suffering, for I have had my share of that. Not long since my health utterly broke down. My system was full of malaria. My digestion became terribly disordered, and my nerves were in a shocked state. I was languid, ate little and felt without enjoying it, and had no strength or ambition to perform even my light household duties. Medical treatment failed to reach the seat of the trouble. The disease—which seemed to be weakness of all the vital organs—progressed until I had several attacks which my physicians pronounced to be acute congestion of the stomach. The last of these was a desperate struggle and I was given up to die. As the crisis had partially passed, my husband heard of the merits of PARKER'S TONIC as an invigorant in just such cases as mine. I took it and felt its good effects at once. It appeared to pervade my body, as though the blessing of new life had come to me. Taking no other medicine I continued to improve, and am now in better health than I have been for a long time."

Is brewed entirely from the finest description of malt, and judicious blending of the hops of the Atlantic and Pacific states.

GOING TO REFORM.

Some Contradictory Talk About the Gate Receipts—General Sporting News—Races at Chicago and Elsewhere—Base Ball.

NEW YORK, July 2.—It was only a favored few that could obtain access to Sullivan's room in the Ashland house, and even to those he spoke in monosyllables. His voice was clearer than it was Monday night, when he sought to excuse himself to the 7,000 people who had been duped out of sums ranging from $2 to $25. His eye had recovered some of its wonted fire, and when he spoke about the fiasco that orb almost flashed. His hand trembled, however, and his general appearance was that of a man on the verge of delerium tremens. He offered no excuse for his conduct on Monday night, but said that had he been guided by his friends, the thing would never have happened. Liquor got the best of him, and then no one could drive reason into his head. Sullivan said in addition to the sickness brought on by his debauch, his stomach was out of order, and in fact he was more a candidate for a hospital than pugilistic honors. "The public think I don't care about this matter," said Sullivan, "but I would sooner have lost anything than had it happen. I had the most at stake. The fact of the matter is, that my eight months' trip has just knocked me out. I tried to train when I came home, but I could not do so properly, and when I heard about Mitchell's illness that started me off again."

"What did you take a Turkish bath for?" was asked.

"Well, to tell you the truth, it was my last resort."

"Why did you not notify the public before 10 o'clock?"

"I sent word to Al Smith that I was not fit to spar, but he doubtless thought I would come around all right. I also told my manager to return the money to those who had bought tickets, but no attention was paid to my message, and Mitchell would not listen to this proposition. Neither would they agree to turn it over to some charitable institution, as I wanted."

"Will you go into the ring again?"

"Yes. I will train from now until September and then be ready to face Mitchell. You can see I am on the eve of returning home soon, and when New York sees John L. Sullivan again it will see a reformed man. When the meeting between Mitchell and myself is over I shall retire from the ring."

When Charley Mitchell was seen he was dressed in the height of fashion. Both he and Billy Madden denied that Sullivan had ever proposed to return the gate money or turn it over to a charitable institution. Al Smith was nowhere to be seen, and the general opinion around town was that the safest thing to do was for the principals in the affair to keep shady.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The second day's sport at Washington park was satisfactory in every respect to a large gathering of spectators. Gen. Phil Sheridan witnessed the racing from the judges' stand. The Union Association.

BALTIMORE, July 2.—The managers of the clubs of the Union Base Ball association, met here. P. J. Dutton was appointed umpire, vice B. A. Mapledoram, resigned. It was decided that all games played with the Altoona club should not be counted in the race for the championship and that the regular number of games be played with its successor, the Kansas City club, instead. John Hillery Thomas Gunning, W. N. Colgan, P. F. Sullivan, Frank Meinoke, and S. A. B. Bebel of the Chicago club were expelled. McSorley, Kent, and Pinckney, of the Peoria club, of the Northwestern league, were given until July 10 to return the $750 advance money paid by the Chicago club under penalty of expulsion. August Alberts, of the National club, Washington, was also expelled.

"American Congress of Churches."

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 2.—In May, 1885, there will be an inter-ecclesiastical congress of ministers of the various Protestant denominations held in this city. The inception of the meeting was held June 18, at Pittsfield, Mass., when, in response to a circular, a committee, composed of Rev. Dr. Scelye, of Amherst college, and many other well-known clergymen, reported recommendations that the organization should be called "The American Congress of Churches." Its object will be to promote Christian union and advance the kingdom of God.

The West Shore Railway.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The West Shore railway employes are being paid to date. The officials of the road say that the men have proved a loyal set in the financial troubles of the company. None but experienced men have been retained in the service. The summer business on the West Shore is already very large, showing that no mistake was made by the projectors of the enterprise in providing a first-class double track along the most picturesque side of the Hudson.

The Secret of Living.

Schorill's Sarsaparilla, of Blood and Liver Syrup, will cure Scrofulous Taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling, Gout, Goitre, Consumption, Bronchitis, Nervous Debility, Malaria and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood. Certificates can be presented from many leading physicians, ministers, and heads of families throughout the land, endorsing it in the highest terms. We are constantly in receipt of certificates of cures from the most reliable sources, and we recommend it as the best known remedy for the cure of the above diseases.

ALLAN PINKERTON DEAD.

CHICAGO, July 2.—At 3:05 Tuesday, July 1, Allan Pinkerton, the founder of the famous detective agencies in this city, New York and Philadelphia, passed away at his residence after a lingering illness. For nearly a year Mr. Pinkerton has been in failing health, which was partially restored by a trip to the Hot Springs and the south. About three weeks ago Mr. Pinkerton returned, but malarial fever soon prostrated him again and it was not destined that he should rise again from the fell disease. He was surrounded by his family at the time of his death and passed away quietly. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from the family residence, 554 West Adams street. The remains will be interred at Graceland, where the deceased has a beautiful lot for his family, right near the burying ground for the employes of the Pinkerton force.

Maj. Pinkerton has been a prominent figure in American life for a quarter of a century. He was the first detective Chicago ever had, having been appointed by Mayor Gurney in 1851. In 1853 he organized his detective agency, which has since become famous the world over. In 1861 he discovered the plot against President Lincoln, who was then on his way to Washington, and frustrated the designs of the Baltimore rebels by taking the president through to Washington a day in advance of the time publicly announced and in a disguise which effectually concealed the identity of the wearer. He was soon called upon to organize the secret-service department of the government, and rendered valuable service during the rebellion. Maj. Pinkerton was born in Scotland in 1819, and when he came to this country settled in Kane county, where he served as deputy sheriff, after holding a similar position in this city. He was an early Abolitionist and ranked as one of the ablest and truest of the few leaders of that great movement.

When the fugitive slave law was enacted his opposition to this measure was aroused and he resolved to use his utmost efforts to defeat its operation. He immediately associated himself with those old patriots, John Brown, James H. Collins, the Lovejoy brothers and other prominent Abolitionist, and rendered most heroic and important service in running what was then called the "underground railroad." By his efforts and energy many a famished and hunted negro who, guided only by the glimmering light of the north star, had broken away from the bonds of slavery and made his way to Chicago on his terrible journey to the welcoming borders of Canada, had been fed and clothed and passed safely on his way, many times, under the very eyes of the officers of the law, who were ready and anxious to send them back to servitude and punishment. In those days it was not an uncommon thing to see Mr. Pinkerton's door besieged by numbers of prayerful negroes, seeking his aid in behalf of some trembling fugitive, and it is needless to say these appeals were never made in vain.

Among his innumerable services against the criminal classes may be mentioned the capture of the six robbers who got away with $100,000 from the Adams Express company's safe on a train near Baltimore, and the recovery of the money; the arrest of the Carbondale bank robbers, in which case the money, $20,000, was also recovered; the breaking up of the Reno gang in Indiana; the capture of Morton and Thompson, who robbed an Adams express safe on the Hudson river railway of $300,000. A sketch of his life would be a history of the undoing of innumerable criminals and would be a volume replete with exciting scenes, brilliant deeds and instances of indomitable perseverance, cool calculation and lion-like courage.

Mr. Pinkerton was the author of fifteen volumes of detective experiences, and has left several volumes in manuscript behind him, which will probably be given to the press at an early date. Mr. Pinkerton's ruling idea in the publication of these works, has been to show to the public how surely and inevitable detection and punishment follow the commission of crime.

The Congressional Record.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—In the senate, bills we passed to provide for a branch of the Soldiers' home west of the Mississippi; for the relief of soldiers improperly charged with desertion, and to grant a pension of $50 a month to the widow of Gen. James B. Steedman. It was agreed to refer to the committee on finance resolutions for the redemption of 10,000,000 trade dollars, and for an investigation into the condition of the banks in New York. The river and harbor bill led to prolonged debate, but was finally passed as it came from the house, appropriating $13,584,700. Only the sundry civil and fortification bills remain to be completed.

In the house of representatives, the conference committee on the naval appropriation bill announced its inability to agree, objection being made to the items for the new cruisers and to continue work on the monitors. The house voted to insist on its disagreement on both of these questions, and now conferees were appointed. The conference committee on the post office appropriation bill reported a failure to agree on the items for railway mail clerks and for compensation to land-grant roads, but the house voted to recede and accept the senate's decision.

Kellogg's Statement.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—By request, the Springer committee heard a statement by Hon. William Pitt Kellogg, of Louisiana, denying the charges which have been made against him respecting the receipt and benefit derived from certain drafts transferred to him by Walsh for alleged services rendered in star route expeditions. Mr. Kellogg explained that the various amounts received by him from Walsh were on account of legitimate indebtedness growing out of business transactions in Louisiana and not on account of mail transportation.

Law That Requires Reforming.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 2.—At the semi-annual meeting of the State Bar association, a committee was formed to report at the next meeting concerning the abuses now existing in mesne process. As the law now stands, by an entirely exparte proceeding an alleged debtor may be attached and imprisoned and his business broken up by a claim of one unconscientious creditor who may have no right of action against the defendant.

New Mexico Land Claims.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—The house committee on public lands has agreed to report favorably a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three to visit New Mexico during the recess and investigate the subject of land claims and land titles in that territory, and report thereon to the next session.

Want an Effective Quarantine.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 2.—The United States consul at Palermo has informed the state department that no vessels are allowed to enter the port of Sicily until the cholera subsides.

Don't!

DON'T Think, just because you have been suffering terribly with Rheumatism or Neuralgia, that you must always continue to suffer.

Nor think just because nobody has been able to cure you or your friends, that Neuralgia and Rheumatism are incurable.

DON'T Think that a cure is impossible just because the physicians have been unable to accomplish it.

Nor think that because ATHLOPHOROS has not been known ever since the foundation of the world, it will not cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

DON'T Neglect the testimony of the hundreds of sufferers who have tried ATHLOPHOROS and are now sound and hearty.

Nor think that because you have tried fifty other things that failed, that ATHLOPHOROS is like them.

Don't be discouraged! The very thing that will cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia is ATHLOPHOROS.

Don't be Skeptical! ATHLOPHOROS has cured others. It will Cure YOU.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

Origin of Ammonia.

Every housekeeper can test baking powders containing this disgusting drug by placing a can of "Royal" or "Andrews' Pearl" top down on a hot stove until heated, then remove the cover and smell. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Potash, Bone Phosphates. Prove it by the above test. It is prepared by a Physician and Chemist with special regard to cleanliness and healthfulness.

A Fair Offer.

The Voltaic Belt company, Marshall, Mich., offer to send Dr. Dye's Voltaic Belt and Appliances on trial, for trial for thirty days, to men, young or old, afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality, and kindred troubles. See advertisement in this paper

Milton.

—The famous McGibeny family will spend their summer vacation at the Stannard house, in this village. They arrived this week and will remain until the latter part of August. They are a welcome addition to our community. They will have daily rehearsals under a competent instructor during their stay, and will go on the road this fall with a better entertainment than ever before. Their concert here last Wednesday was the most popular and pleasing entertainment ever given in this village, and was listened to by the largest audience that ever assembled in Milton, the number reaching nearly five hundred. The programme was of unusual excellence, and received hearty applause and frequent encores. The finest thing on the programme was a quartet, "Bridge of Sighs," by Mr. and Mrs. McGibeny, Frank and Viola. The solo by Frank, and the cornet solo "Sweet Bessie," by Viola were also especially fine, while Hugh's violin solo showed the touch of a master in its rendition. Of course the little folks are immense in their several parts, and are destined to make worthy rivals of their elders in the near future. As a company the McGibeny's, to use a slang expression, "take the cake, bakery and foundation stones thereof," and are worthy of the patronage of everybody.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Maxon, of Milwaukee, visited Milton friends this week.

—Dr. Borden is driving a new phaeton. It is a very neat carriage.

—Hall's circus gives an exhibition here Saturday, and if it proves any bigger humbug than its immediate predecessors in that line, is not liable to get a black eye before leaving the village.

—This village was largely represented at the Seven Day Baptist Northwestern association held at Walworth, last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

—A pleasant little feature of commencement week was the presentation on Wednesday evening to President Whitford of a life membership in the National Teacher's association, the gift of a few of the alumni and old students of the college. It was a complete surprise to him and highly appreciated.

—J. M. Sailer unloaded from the cars Saturday a new self propelling road engine from the factory of Nichols, Shepard & Co., Battle Creek, Michigan. It is provided with Sailer's reversible gear and he handles the engine as easily as the writer could a wheelbarrow.

—Dea. Henry Ernst and wife, of Alden, Minn., have been visiting Milton friends.

—Among those who made this village a visit Commencement Day, were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Burdick, Major Rockwood, Garrett Veeder and Misses Flo. Soverhill and Nellie Jones, of Janesville; Miss Ella Covey, Chicago; John Stillman, C. C. Atwood, R. C. Green and Misses Coon and Babcock, of Albion; Dr. J. H. Burdick and wife, of Utica; Rev. J. L. Davis, of Garwin, Iowa; Hon. David Whitehead, of Janesville; Warren Tomkins, of Albany; L. Hulsether, of Utica; C. A. Armstrong, of Boscobel; Will Clarke, of Walworth; W. B. and Amy West, of Utica; F. W. Coon, editor of the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter; John Home, of Milwaukee; H. D. Hanson, of the Oregon Observer. Dr. Jas. Mills, of Elgin, Ill.; Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Humphrey, of Whitewater; E. P. Moore, of Waupun; Misses, Emma F. Chamberlain, of Shopiere, M. J. Henry and Maggie McGarlane, of Rock Prairie; Florence Johnson and Evaleen Whittaker, of Indian Ford, and Lillie Johnson, of Darien. D. J. and J. Z. McLay and R. Barlass, of Rock Prairie. Bert Welch, of Fairfield, and J. W. McGowan, of Delaware, Ohio.

—Prof. H. W. Rood, of Omro, is spending his vacation here with his family.

—H. G. Hamilton has improved the appearance of his premises very much by grading and sodding the lot east of his house and removing his fence.

—Miss Susie Collins, of Kasota, Minn., who has been spending some weeks here with relatives, left for home last Thursday. During her stay here she made many friends who will be glad to meet her again.

—Miss M. Dell Burdick, late of the graded school faculty, left for Racine, Monday, where she will reside with her parents in the future. Her many friends here regret her departure, and she will be much missed.

—Mrs Yates, of Winona, Minn., who has been visiting Milton relatives, returned, Monday.

—In our item last week in regard to the exercises of the intermediate graded school, we mentioned the exhibit of drawings as the work of that department, when, in fact, at least one-half of the exhibit was the work of the pupils in the A grade of Miss Douglass' room. This correction is due both to Miss Douglass and her pupils.

—The telegraph pole war between the representatives of the Bankers' and Merchants' company and Goodrich, waxeth warm, and we shall not attempt to predict the outcome.

NOW IS THE TIME TO CURE SKIN HUMORS.

It is at this season when the pores open freely and the perspiration is abundant that disfiguring humors, humiliating eruptions, itching tortures, salt rheum or eczema, psoriasis, tetter, ringworm, baby humors, scrofula, scrofulous sores, abscesses, and discharging wounds, and every species of itching, scaly, and pimply diseases of the skin and scalp are most speedily and economically cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

IT IS A FACT.

Hundreds of letters in our possession (copies of which may be had by return mail) are our authority for the assertion that skin, scalp, and blood humors, whether scrofulous, inherited, or contagious, may now be permanently cured by Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap the great skin cures and beautifiers, externally, in one half the time and at one half the expense of any other season.

GREATEST ON EARTH.

Cuticura Remedies are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case salt rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe Cuticura would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used Cuticura Resolvent, internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, externally.
J. W. ADAMS, Newark, O.

GREAT BLOOD MEDICINES.

The half has not been told as to the great curative powers of the Cuticura Remedies. I have paid hundreds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to equal the Cuticura Remedies.
CHAS. A. WILLIAMS.
Providence, R. I.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your Cuticura Remedies outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say that they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "23 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,
HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

Dr. F. B. BREWER

Has made Chronic Diseases of the

A special treatment for years. He is not a boastful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of maladies that have been with him a long and patient study. To be able to treat successfully chronic diseases it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years' of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinions and reasonable in his charges. —A very small audience witnessed the presentation of the Two Orphans, by the Glassford combination at the opera house last evening. The members of the company acted their parts well, notwithstanding the empty seats before them. The company play in Fort Atkinson to-morrow evening.

—The Chicago & Northwestern railway company will sell excursion tickets to all stations July 3d and 4th, good to return until July 7th. Fare, 60 per cent of regular rates. Also will sell excursion tickets to Chicago during the democratic convention July 5th to 8th, good to return until July 14th. Fare $3.55 for the round trip.

—Mr. George M. Branninger, of this city, has just been experimenting with his boiler water purifier upon the steam boiler at the Wisconsin shoe factory, with the best results. The scales which were loosened by means of this water purifier is evidence that the invention is a good one, and that it should be attached to all steam boilers.

There is no use of denying it, there is no use of trying to deny it, indeed it must be admitted that F. C. Cook & Co., carry at all times the finest and choicest lines of rich jewelry, including diamonds, watches and solid silverware, all of the latest styles and most superb finish. Anyone who cannot suit himself from their large stock would find it impossible to be suited outside of Chicago or some eastern city.

—Mr. E. D. Tallman has erected a Blaine and Logan pole fifty feet high in the handsome park about his residence in the first ward. From the head of this a streamer will float during the campaign. Mr. Tallman is first in the field in Janesville in raising the Blaine and Logan flag. Others will soon follow his wise example, and it won't be long before the republicans of Janesville will be thoroughly equipped for a vigorous campaign.

—The many friends of Mrs. A. B Whitcomb in this community will be saddened to hear of her sudden death, at her home in Industry, Nebraska, June 23, at 11 o'clock a. m., after an illness of only 19 hours. In six days she would have been 60 years of age. Besides her husband, D. H. K. Whitcomb, she leaves three children to mourn her loss, D. C. D. Whitcomb, of Industry; A. E. Whitcomb, of Holdridge; and Mrs. M. A. Moon, of Industry, Neb.

—A general order from post headquarters notifies the members of W. H. Sargent Post to assemble at 9 o'clock on the morning of July 4th at headquarters, and be ready to parade at 9:30. The little girls selected to ride in the "ship of state" will meet at headquarters at 9 o'clock, and be prepared to embark at 9:30. The boys who will be invited to man the ship in the evening will report at headquarters at 7:30. Further details are to be announced on the morning of the 4th.

—The democratic concert programme, so freely distributed on the street yesterday, is causing a good deal of amusement. A fertile brain, overflowing with loyal democratic ideas, has a marvelous capacity. "He laughs best who laughs last." The republicans will all be in at the last session, and the programme presented will satisfy the most ardent democratic composer. Small boys are noted for whistling after dark. Whistle away, boys, courage will be the result, and practice will make you more efficient when you strike the other tune in November.

—While laying out your plans for the Fourth, remember that the greatest event of all will be the game of ball between the Mutuals, of Janesville, and the Englewood club, of Chicago, at the fair grounds. The Englewoods are one of the best clubs outside of the Nationa League. But they will have to get up and climb if they expect to get away with the Mutuals, as the home club on that day will have the strongest nine they have yet presented. After you have seen the grand parade in the morning and are about tired out standing around the streets, take a carryall at Myers house corner, and you will be taken to one of the finest ball grounds in the country. Good covered seats and plenty of room for all. Game called at 3 p. m. The same clubs will also play on Saturday, the 5th.

—Our friend A. H Sheldon, of the fourth ward, had a tree of splendid cherries which the birds found pleasure in eating. Not wishing that the cherries should provide a daily feast for the birds, he made an artistic "scare-crow" and set it in the tree. It was a fine piece of work—neatly dressed, and wearing a plug hat. For a short time the effigy did its business well, but gradually the birds became better acquainted with the real character of the "man up a tree," and at last the utmost familiarity existed between them. The birds would light on the limbs, pick a cherry or two each, and then perch themselves on the crown of the plug hat and take their time in eating the forbidden fruit. It is needless to remark that the birds found the effigy a very convenient arrangement for their occupation of cherry-picking, and was quickly taken down. It is a very cold summer when the birds can't find some way to take the larger part of the product of a cherry tree.

Personal.

—Mrs. F. R. Pechin, of Huron, D. T., is in the city, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kent.

—Dr. George Horne and Attorney Cass, of Whitewater, are in the city today, atending a law suit before Justice M.S. Prichard.

—Mr. Wm. Hughes, passenger agent of the Savannah, Florida and Western railway, of Chicago, was in the city today, and made a welcome visit to the Gazette office.

—Colonel Richard S. Tuthill, of Chicago, who will deliver the oration at our Fourth of July celebration on Friday, arrived in the city last evening, and will remain until sometime next week.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hilt, of the third ward, will go to Chicago on Saturday for a few days visit with their daughter, after which they intend to make a visit to friends in the northern part of this state, and will be absent from home about three weeks. This is the third time Mr. Hilt has been away from the city to stay any length of time during his thirty years residence. In 1859 he footed the entire distance from Janesville to California, and in '62 he was tramping through the south for Uncle Sam. His many friends will wish him a pleasant vacation.

Municipal Court.

The case of the city against Charles T. Wilcox charged with violating the street ordinance, was dismissed on motion of the city attorney, the defendant paying the costs.

In the case of the state against Mary A. Comeford alias Mary A. Carr, an information was filed by the district attorney charging adultery. The defendant was arraigned and plead not guilty, and was remanded for trial. Wm. Smith, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

In the case of the state against Wilford W. Hurst a jury was drawn and the case set for trial on July 5th. The defendant is charged with maliciously pointing fire arms and using abusive and threatening language. C. M. Scanlan appeared for defendant and C. E. Pierce for the state.

Pope's Springs.

The pleasure resort recently opened by Captain Buchholz at Pope's Springs should be liberally patronized by Janesville people. The ride up the river on the little steamer Enterprise is delightful, and a day spent in the woods will do more to brace up the constitution than all the internal health restorers yet discovered. Captain Buchholz should be patronized by the better class of people because he is conducting a strictly temperance resort. Sunday schools and private parties will find Pope's Springs a very pleasant place to spend the day Try it.

A Grand Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Iowa, says: 'My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved her very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good health for thirty years."

Picnic.

Captain Buchholz will give a picnic at his pleasure grounds at Pope's Springs, July 4th. The steamer Enterprise will make her first trip at one o'clock p. m., and run regularly during the afternoon and evening. Round trip 25 cents. Music by Gokey & Terry's band.

PRO BONO PUBLICO—The introduction of pure and healthy Soda and Saleratus is an immense benefit to the public. D. B. DeLand & Co. were the pioneers of this movement, and they continue to be the leading manufacturers of these goods in the United States.

At the Fair Grounds.

The Great Rocky Mountain show, presenting, as the bills describe it, a vivid and thrilling illustration of wild western life, will arrive in the city to-morrow and exhibit on the fair grounds in the afternoon. It is said that one thousand men women, Indians, squaws and animals are connected with this show. Among the indians will be seen Curley, the scout and the only survivor of the Custer massacre. If half that is advertised is performed, it will afford amusement enough for anyone.

Disease is no respecter of persons not of age. Little Katie Gill, of 817 West 12th street, Chicago, Ill., was stricken down with sciatic rheumatism. The pain was so intense and the contraction of the limbs so severe that twelve pounds of weight were attached to her ankle and worn night and day to counteract the shortening of the affected members. The parents of the unfortunate child were attracted by an advertisement of Athlophoros, and purchased a bottle. Two small doses were given to her, and the child slept that night without pain for first time in eight months. The use of the medicine was continued with the most beneficent results, and Katie will soon be entirely well.

The Weather.

ALARM INTENSIFIED.

The Cholera Making Its Deadly Way Into the Rural Regions.

Appearance at Lyons—Tampering with Reports—Dr. Trouchin's Treatment by Inhalation of Oxygen—Foreign Items.

PARIS, July 2.—The latest dispatch from Toulon states that the cholera has extended to the rural districts and great excitement prevails among the inhabitants. The feeling of alarm has been greatly intensified by the rapid strides the disease is making. The authorities confidently asserted a few days ago that the measures they had taken were such that it was almost impossible for the plague to extend beyond the provinces in which the germs were first developed, and the news that it has reached the outlying districts has caused a panic among the residents of the city and suburbs. The official report states that seven deaths have occurred in Toulon in the twenty-four hours, and several new cases have been discovered.

PARIS, July 2.—The cholera has made its appearance in Lyons, several cases having been reported.

At Marseilles business is almost entirely suspended in consequence of the prevalence of the disease. The theatres are all closed and the performers have fled the city.

The French railway authorities refuse to issue tickets to any part of Italy, the Italian government having ordered that no fugitives from France shall be admitted within the Italian borders.

MARSEILLES, July 2.—One more death from cholera has occurred here. The people are now thoroughly alarmed and are fleeing from the city in large numbers. Over 5,000 have gone since last Friday. The telegraph officials are accused of tampering with the press and other dispatches sent from here with the object of suppressing the facts and belittling the gravity of the situation. Even the dispatches of the foreign representatives are alleged to have been distorted and much indignation is felt thereat.

TOULON, July 2.—Dr. Trouchin, a leading physician of this city, has been most [illegible] by inhalation of oxygen, numbers of lives having been saved by this method. The satisfactory results of Dr. Trouchin's innovation have created a sensation here and attracted much attention elsewhere.

The Soudan Troubles.

CAIRO, July 2.—Col. Kitchener, who has returned to Assouan, said in an interview that the rebels are determined to reach Dongola, and are massing rapidly, preparatory to moving upon that place. They are well armed and equipped, and are possessed of formidable artillery. Gen. Gordon, he says, is safe at present, but it will require 20,000 men to rescue him. It is reported that Nubar Pasha, Egyptian premier, has resigned.

A Swiss Village Burned.

BERNE, July 2.—A fire broke out in the village of Bertischwy, Tuesday, which destroyed the entire town, leaving its inhabitants, 200 in number, homeless. A high wind was blowing at the time, which carried sparks to a neighboring village, igniting several houses, but the vigilance and energy of the villagers prevented the destruction of property.

MRS. STRASBERGER'S DIAMONDS.

How They Mysteriously Disappeared and Reappeared.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 2.—Dr. Charles E. Strasberger and wife, from Omaha, Neb., registered at the Mansion house June 19, on their way to Avon, N. Y., for the benefit of the health of the latter, who has been and invalid for fourteen years. She is in the habit of carrying a quantity of diamond jewelry in a bag, and on retiring that night she placed the same, together with about $640 in money, under the mattress. The diamonds were valued at over $2,000. In the morning she forgot them until on the cars, when her husband reminded her of the loss. Dr. Strasberger telegraphed Manager Stafford of the Mansion house, who had a diligent search made, but they were not to be found. The doctor returned to Buffalo and placed the affair in the hands of Byrnes' detective agency, who investigated and finally suspected Margaret Taylor, a chambermaid, who, however, protested her innocence. The diamonds were subsequently returned in as mysterious a manner as they were lost. A party occupying the same room used by the Strasborgers, on Sunday last, discovered the jewelry minus the money, in a bureau drawer. Miss Taylor has been arrested. There seems to be little doubt of her guilt.

Outrage in New York City.

NEW YORK, July 2.—While Lizzie Kemp, a young woman 18 years of age, was walking on Twenty-fourth street at night, she was seized by two negroes and dragged into a stable owned by Solomon Mahrbeck, where she was brutally outraged. The unfortunate girl was discovered shortly after in a semi-unconscious condition, and removed to Bellevue hospital, where she was pronounced to be in a very delicate condition. A negro named Charles Harreson, who is believed to have been one of her assailants, has been arrested.

A Day's Pleasure.

The Court Street Methodist Sunday school enjoyed an old fashioned picnic at Pope's Spring yesterday. The steamer Enterprise was engaged for the day and made regular trips from nine o'clock in the morning until seven in the evening. The little people and their friends, to the number of something over two hundred, were in attendance and the day was filled with enjoyment. Everybody had a good time, and nothing happened to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

Don't Spill the Milk.

"There is no use crying over spilled milk," says the old saw. If you are not only bald, but have no life in the roots of your hair, there is no use crying over that, either. Take both time and yourself by the forelock while there is a forelock left. Apply Parker's Hair Balsam to your hair before matters get worse. It will arrest the falling off of your hair and restore its original color, gloss and softness. It is a perfect dressing withal, clean, richly perfumed, cools and heals the scalp.

Commencement Week at Milton College.

The field day exercises were held on Friday, June 20, and consisted of sixteen contested games. J. B. Hayner won the prize in the 150 yard run; H. Bamberg was the best man in the long kick foot ball; G. B. Shaw in that of the high kick of the foot ball; the prize for the long run was won by W. R. Pember, and that of the long throw by E. E. Campbell. Of the ladies, Miss Minnie Davis threw the farthest and Miss Gertie Davidson walked the best. The prize for the running jump was taken by J. B. Hayner; that of the standing jump by A. J. Olson; that of the hop, step and jump, by L. C. Randolph; that of the high pole jump, by E. F. Wood, and that of the long pole jump, by A. C. Dunn. A. J. Olson won two other prizes, one in the heavy sledge throw, and the other, 100-yard race, and W. R. Pember was the best in the walk for gents, and M. C. Whitford won the wheelbarrow prize.

The annual sermon before the Christian Association was delivered on Friday evening in the S. D. B. church, by Rev. G. M. Cottrell, of West Halleck, Ill. His text was from 1 Cor. 3, 9. "For we are laborers together with God."

The first session of the literary societies was held on Saturday evening, and the second on Monday evening, both in the College chapel. The following were the speakers and readers and their themes: Mr. H. E. McNeil, "Necessity of work". Miss I. E. Owen, a recitation, "What a Christmas card did." Miss E. L. Crandall, a paper, "The Trident." Mr. B. J. Curtis, "Practical Living." Miss. M. J. Haven, "Wagner." Mr. F. E. Peterson, "Life and Work of J. G. Holland." Miss C. B. Oviatt, a paper. Mr. C. M. Post, a recitation, "Little Stowaway." Mr. C. B. Hull, "Ideal and Real." Mr. G. M. Henderson, an address. The address by Mr. Henderson of the class of '82 and the paper of Mr. Curtis on "Practical Living" are both highly commented. The music consisted of solos sung by Mr. W. B. Anderson and Miss L. G. Spicer, clarionet solo played Mr. H. R. Saunders, and a cornet solo by Mr. C. M. Post, accompanied by music from the piano rendered by Miss M. J. Haven, and by two quartets, Misses A. L. Goodrich and C. S. Clark and Messrs. E. E. Campbell and C. A. Lufford; and Misses A. M., Winnie and L. G. Spicer, and Messrs. L. C. Randolph, A. C. Dunn and G. R. Boss. The Baccalaureate sermon was preached by President Whitford on Sunday evening in the Seventh Day Baptist church. The following is a synopsis.

An institution of learning, like Mount Carmel, is a theater on which are exhibited the conflicting forces in science, social economy and religion. It becomes also a high watch-tower from which can be observed the great movements at work among men. From this stand-point, we will consider the slow rising and the sometimes rapid progress of prominent tendencies in the religious thought and life of our times.

1. A tendency of our age is its self-sufficiency. It is proud of its knowledge, its virtues, its work, and its achievements; and is wanting in a grave, reverential, and forgiving spirit. Still, this self-reliance, when properly directed, gives more force and definiteness to christian labor.

2. Another tendency is rationalism. It denies any place or culture as belonging to faith. It agrees with the gospel in making the love of truth a ruling principle of action. Its effect upon the mind is belittling and crippling, though it affirms that there are realities, and that we can know them. It will doubtless guide to the elimination of errors which have crept into the religious opinions of men.

3. A third tendency is the scientific bias. It has contributed largely toward [illegible] It is a revival of the old Greek mode of thinking, and drives us from too exclusive reliance upon supernatural agencies. It has forced, in some cases, christianity into an unnatural antagonism with itself.

4. A fourth tendency consists in the industrial pursuits. The forces of nature are pressed, as never before, into the service of man; and, as thus used, are breaking down the prejudices of many people against a civilized and christian life. Our industries are developing great energy of character. The new inventions are influencing Pagan and Mohammedan minds to accept Christ.

5. The last tendency noticed is the intensely practical spirit. The favorite text of the world is, "By their fruits ye shall know them." This tendency is healthful, as it develops pluck and courage, and insures success. Its danger lies in demanding the immediate advantage, and in being impatient with the remote. It has not prevented the manifestations of deep and fervent sentiment. It is also philanthropic, and develops some phases of thought highly favorable to the christian religion.

—The annual lecture before the literary societies was given by Hon. Schuyler Colfax on the theme "Our Martyred Presidents, Lincoln and Garfield." The intimate personal relations that the speaker sustained to both of these presidents, as well as his distinguished ability, made the lecture one of more than ordinary interest.

—Commencement Day was so cold and gloomy that the exercises were adjourned from the college campus to the S. D. B. church. Rev. E. M. Dunn, pastor of the church, made the opening prayer, and the celebrated McGibeny Family furnished the music. Mr. W. J. Skelton, of Henderson, Mich., gave an oration on "The Profession of Civil Law." Myron J. Whitford, M. D., gave the master's oration on the theme "Young Men and Ability." Mr. H. L. Emerson, of Dubuque, Iowa, spoke on the theme, "Public Station," and Mr. W. D. Thomas, of Shiloh, N. Y., gave the closing oration, taking for his subject "The Spirit of Individualism." This oration was one of more than ordinary merit, and evinced careful thinking as well as scholarly acquirements.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon Misses Emerson, and Thomas; that of Master of Arts, upon Myron J. Whitford and W. D. Licknor; that of Bachelor of Science, upon James Mills. Mr. Skelton graduating from the teacher's course received no degree.

The Alumni exercises were held in the afternoon in college chapel, and consisted of an address by J. C. Bartholf, class of '81, subject, "The Practical and Social in Education." He was followed by others in impromptu speeches. M. J. Whitford was chosen president of the association for the ensuing year; W. D. Thomas, vice president, and Bessie M. Tomkins, secretary.

The senior concert by the McGibeny family, in the evening, was largely attended, and was a success even beyond the most sanguine expectations. During a brief intermission some of the Alumni surprised President Whitford by making him a formal presentation of a life membership in the National Teacher's association.

The college has been quite prosperous during the past year, having had a large attendance of students and having been able to secure thorough work and discipline in its several classes. Its friends confidently expect even better results next year.

Another Poor Man Struck by Fortune.

The man who has a prize in a lottery is regarded as the happiest of mortals. At the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery two Memphis men drew $15,000 each. Mr. J. B. Dorsey, a foreman upon the levees along the Mississippi, has been living in humble circumstances at 33 Jackson street. An Avalanche reporter repaired to the corner of Jackson street, and inquired where Dorsey lived. Q. "You mean the man that drew the lottery prize?" A. "Yes." "He's moved away. He used to live in that little house over there, but he's goin' to live in a fine house in Ft. Pickering now."—Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche, June 4th.

—There was a meeting of the town board held at the residence of M. J. Akin a few days since. The only business of importance to transact was in regard to the discontinuance of a public highway. The meeting was largely attended, there being several interested parties present.

—E. M. Ransom expects soon to have an addition to his farm of one-fourth acre of untillable land. "Blast if he don't."
